TAKING 'FORUM' FOR COURSE CREDIT

The way you can earn college credit is by attending Nebraska Wesleyan's University Forum lecture series.

On Fridays through the year, Forum offers opportunities to gain insight on social, ethical, local and national issues through presentations by guest speakers who are recognized leaders in their fields. Students can meet the speakers personally to ask questions and share ideas and concerns.

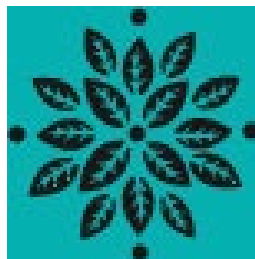

The Forum schedule for fall 1993 includes the following topics: "After Wesleyan? The Peace Corps!" featuring two recent Nebraska Wesleyan graduates who are also Peace Corps volunteers; "What Do We Do Before the Book Burners Arrive?" with Gene Lanier, East Carolina University; "A Program of African and Spiritual Music" featuring the Albert McNeil Jubilee Singers; and "The Future of the Great Plains" with Frank and Deborah Popper, Rutgers University.

You can earn one-half credit for one semester of Forum attendance. This includes 13 convocation programs or cultural events approved by the Forum Committee.
